 - 1. The waters of the prostitute are earth's people (v. 15)
 - 2. God's ironic judgment (v. 16-18)
 - 1) Earth's kings and the beast will hate and destroy the prostitute (v. 16)
 - 2) God put it in their hearts (v. 17)
 - i. To be unified ("of one mind")
 - ii. To hand royal power to the beast
 - 3) The woman (said here to be "the great city") currently rules earth's kings

Conclusions:

- 1) Resist staunchly the pressure to conform to the world's systems that oppose God's,
- 2) Stand against Satan's increasing persecution for resisting the pressure to conform.
